Snacks

Mighty breakfast apple sandwich

It has been said to cure depression and invigorate even the most tired of souls who have been up on feet for days without eating.

Ingredients

- Baguette or equivalent
- Neutral cheddar cheese
- Bacon
- Cayenne pepper
- Egg
- Soy sauce
- Onion flakes
- Japanese mayonnaise
- Apple

Notes:

- The bacon is optional and it is very is for it to overpower the taste balance so use it very sparingly.
- Depending on the onion flakes, these can be quite strong in taste as well. When used with the bacon, be careful as these two can bring too much salt into the taste profile.
- Probably just don't add salt.

Instructions:

1. Slap some butter on the pan, toast the bread from one side until golden brown.
2. Turn the bread over and add slices of cheese as the other side goldens.
3. Remove bread from pan, turn the heat up slightly and add bacon seasoned with cayenne pepper.
4. When there are slight signs of char on the bacon remove on to paper towels to drain excess fat and keep them crispy.
5. Turn the heat down to medium, add the egg with a splash of soy sauce, cook and flip until the egg is cooked to your liking.
6. Add the egg on top of the cheese that is on the bread, then break the bacon into pieces and add on top of the egg.
7. Draw squiggles of Japanese mayonnaise on the bread, add a sprinkle of onion flakes and top with about 3mm apple slices.
8. Et voilà!

Hot-Smoked Fish "Salad"

Every time you're hosting for a group there's bound to be someone like me says things like "I don't really like seafood..." Well, this recipe is perfect for converting people to the Dark Side of seafood because it doesn't really taste very fishy. Fortunately it's dead simple to make so it will be no problem if the seafood-haters guests come looking for seconds.

Best served on ciabatta or equivalent bread.

Ingredients

- 1 small hot-smoked fish (eg smoked sea bass)
- 4 eggs
- 1-2 (red) onions
- Fresh dill and chives
- Hellmann's (or other neutral) mayonnaise

Instructions:

1. Boil the eggs for 10 minutes, then cool under running cold water, peel and break the eggs with a fork.

2. Peel and finely chop the onion. Clean the smoked fish and cut it into smaller pieces.
3. Mix onion, chopped eggs, smoked fish and herbs in a bowl. Add enough mayonnaise to bind the ingredients together.
4. If desired, season with salt and pepper.
5. Slap the "salad" on some ciabatta or equivalent alternative and watch even the seafood haters devour it.
6. Et voilà!

Caponata

Inspired by and adjusted from Eggplant Caponata With Raisins (also in video recipe form).

Ingredients

- 2 pounds eggplant - cubed
- 1 cup celery - chopped
- 1 cup red onion - chopped
- 1 cup pitted green olives - chopped
- 1/4 cup indian nuts
- 1/4 cup parsley - minced
- 1/8 cup capers - rinsed
- 1 (6) ounce can tomato paste or just tomatoes
- 3/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 1 Tbsp sugar or a little less
- 1 tsp kosher salt
- 1/2 tsp black pepper

Notes:

- The flavors will meld together and change the taste profile for the next day. Of course, it can be eaten right away too!
- Before roasting you can salt the eggplant pieces for 30 minutes. The salt will release moisture from the eggplants and allow them to cook quicker in the oven. Using a paper towel, pat dry the eggplants with a wiping action to remove some of the salt before roasting.
- The texture of the caponata is really a personal preference. If you like it on the softer side, saute the veggies a little bit longer and/or cut them smaller. Conversely, just cook them for a few minutes if you want the celery and onion crunch.

Possible additions:

- Add some zucchini to this caponata for a nice twist.
- Use 1-2 large bell peppers, cut up into bite-size chunks for added texture and flavor.
- Roast 1 cup of carrots with the eggplant for added flavor or just sear them in the pan with the onions and celery to introduce a crunchy texture.

- Saute 3-4 chopped anchovies until they melt with the celery and onion.
- Mint and basil are excellent additions!

Instructions:

1. Preheat oven to 425F and begin by cutting 2 pounds of eggplant into approximately 1″ cubes.
2. Place all the cut eggplant into a large glass bowl and toss with a 1/2 cup of olive oil, a tsp of kosher salt and a 1/2 tsp of black pepper. Use enough oil to coat all the pieces.
3. On a large baking sheet (line it with parchment paper to avoid sticking) spread out the eggplant. Keep the pieces from touching and if necessary use 2 sheet pans. Place the eggplant on the middle oven rack and roast for 25-30 minutes.
4. While the eggplant is roasting begin cutting 1 cup of celery into smallish pieces like shown.
5. Cut 1 cup of onion into half-moon strips. You can cut the onion and celery any way you want! Some people like a chunkier caponata while others prefer a smoother one.
6. Toast a 1/4 cup of pignoli (pine) nuts in a separate pan over medium-low heat for 5 minutes or so. Be careful, they burn easily. When finished toasting, remove the nuts and set them aside.
7. In a large pan saute the onion and celery for a few minutes in a 1/4 cup of olive oil over medium heat. Again this is a preference/textural thing. If you like crunchy vegetables in your caponata only saute them for a minute or so.
8. Add in one 6-ounce can of tomato paste and cook for 3 minutes longer, spreading the paste all around the pan.
9. After 25-30 minutes the eggplant will be nicely roasted as shown. Use a fork and make sure they are soft on the inside and fully cooked. If not, another 5 minutes in the oven is fine.
10. To the pan add 1 cup of pitted good quality green olives, an 1/8 cup of rinsed capers Also, add 1 Tbsp of sugar and a 1/4 cup of red wine vinegar. Cook for 5 minutes stirring occasionally to avoid sticking.
11. Add in the eggplant and pine nuts and cook for 3 more minutes to ensure the caponata is well mixed. Be careful while mixing in the eggplant to avoid mashing it too much. A gentle stir with a wooden spoon is all that’s required.
12. Finally, add a 1/4 cup of chopped fresh parsley, give it one more stir, and a taste test. Adjust salt, pepper, and sugar if necessary. If satisfied, let it cool, then place it in a container and refrigerate.
